THE LATEST MINT ORDER.

The Carson Tribune says:
The Superintendent of the Mint's last order (he seems to be receiving them almost daily) permanently discharges all the skilled labor of that institution, which means the closing of its doors against the usual business for which Mints are established. The force conducting the present very limited operations of that institution (the melting of a few gold deposits) consists of eighteen persons against sixty-four employed last year at this date. In previous years these skilled operatives have been suspended for periods of five and eight months respectively, but no discharges were made; hence, as we have before written, this last order means the main step towards the permanent closing of our Mint. We regret this step of the Administration, for we think they have made a mistake in constraining the Coinage Law. If we understand it rightly, the bullion now on hand (said to be some $600,000 worth) was purchased for coming into standard silver dollars, and it should be coined. In any event the Mint should be kept to work upon this large amount of bullion until it is worked up, which would take probably six months, when Congress will meet and such action taken by that body as will settle the question whether we are to have a Mint in the future or an assay office.

Otto Greenhood writes that the Nevada colony in San Francisco is constantly growing there, and most of its members are doing fairly well these dull times. Ex-Supreme Judges Whitman and Lewis, are enjoying a lucrative practice here, but they long for the aromatic sagebrush. To tell the truth, I scarcely meet a Nevada, even after an absence from the State for several years, who does not express his love for Nevada and all that is in it. Crittenden Thornton occupies splendid apartments in the London and San Francisco Bank building. Colonel R. H. Taylor has turned puritan, and no one attends to business more closely than he. R. E. Lowery is here also, but is in miserable health. After a sagebrusher lives here a time and his clothes lose their aroma, his nature seems changed, and he soon drifts into the ways of a cold blooded city. After the first hearty greeting, whether sincere or assumed, he meets his Nevada friend with a nod of the head and a "how do," and passes on as if the equilibrium of this planet devolved on the rapidity of his motion.

The following appointments were made Wednesday: Allen Thomas, to be coiner of the mint at New Orleans; Wallace McLamen, of Mississippi, to be Receiver of Public moneys at Jackson, Mississippi; James D. Stewart, Mississippi, to be register of the Land Office at Jackson, Mississippi; William Bayard of Colorado, to be register of the Land Office at Pueblo, Colorado; to be Government Directors of the Union Pacific Railroad, Frederick R. Coudert, of New York City, vice Hon. Francis Kernan, declined; Marcus W. Hanna, of Cleveland, Ohio, vice Leander B. Harrison, declined; Bedford Mackey, of South Carolina, to be United States Consul at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico.

The New York Sun, Herald and other Democratic papers are very hopeful over the turn which Tammany affairs have taken, as indicated by the election Monday evening of Charles E. Loew as one of the Sachems. The Sun says: It marks the beginning of a new departure by the Tammany Hall General Committee. The real significance of the movement lies in the fact that a very considerable number of the Tammany leaders believe that John Kelly is not coming back into the organization, and in any case will not assume its direct leadership.

It is estimated in some quarters that the total cost of Saturday's pageant in New York will not be far from $1,000,000, as follows: Expenses of regular troops, $3,000; National Guards, $70,000; city expenditures, $35,000; civic organizations, $250,000; draping city, $500,000.

There are 248 cities and towns in the United States having a population of 10,000 and upwards.

The Austrian Government refuses to receive Minister Kelly.

The Silver Question.

The New York Sun in a leader says: The present loan of gold to the Treasury by the banks of this city, was made expressly upon an assurance that the gold would be needed only until the meeting of Congress in December, and this is the general opinion of the bankers and merchants in this section of the country. The Sun thinks the facts of past silver legislation and the prospects of the future action of the House, founded on ascertained views of the members, justify the conclusion that any proposition looking to the stoppage of the coinage of the silver dollar will probably meet the same fate in the new House that it did in the last one. This opinion is already expressed by Senator Sherman and by Representative Randall, of Pennsylvania, who are much better judges of the matter than Wall street bank Presidents. The Sun also says that the only recent utterances against silver coinage, heard in the South, come from the few bankers and merchants living in large cities who, like their brethren here, know little or nothing of the sentiments of the great mass of their fellow-citizens on public questions. An analysis of the House vote as at present constituted, shows only 124 votes at the outside favoring the stoppage of silver coinage, which is thirty-nine less than necessary for a majority on a full vote.

Will It Be Russia and France Against England and Germany?

The article in the North German Gazette attacking France in connection with the advice of the Paris Temps that the cavalry on the frontier be reinforced, has seriously affected the Berlin and Frankfurt bourses. It is supposed in official circles that the object of the article is to prepare the public for a large increase in the military budget. All the German newspapers, following the Gazette, dwell upon the fact that the approach of the French and Russians toward each other is coincident with the increasing good will between England and Germany. The rector of the University of Berlin, at the celebration yesterday in honor of the founder, Frederick William, toasted the health of Emperor William in the following words: "Long live peace. Should, however, the arrogance of our neighbors pass from daring words into daring deeds, they will learn that the old spirit still lives."

A Prosperous Locality.

The San Louis Obispo Tribune publishes the Assessor's report for 1885, showing the valuation of all but railroad property to be $9,290,800—an increase of $1,000,000 since last year, and of over $4,000,000 in the last three years. The increase is chiefly the result of immigration, the opening of farms and improvements.

A Nobby Boston Girl.

Some of the new bathing suits are fearfully and wonderfully made. A Boston girl, tall, fair and well-formed, with pretty face and blue eyes and a wealth of blonde hair done up in a braid of glittering gold at the back, yesterday wore a tight-fitting, red Jersey suit striped with red and blue. It was cut décolleté, while from the top in front circled a chain of pink links, which met beneath the armpits and met again in an easy curve at the back of the neck. The waist has a brief folding skirt. Upon her head was perched in regal fashion a pink man-of-war's hat, the hues of which only lightened the brightness of the lovely face beneath. The appearance of the Boston girl on the beach created a sensation, and many paused to watch the startling vision of loveliness.

A Reno Party.

The Truckee Republican, of Wednesday, says:
An old fashioned stage made its appearance on the plaza to-day. A special reporter having been detailed to find out what it meant, reports that the party was from Reno and Forest City, and that they had been to Webber and Independence Lakes, were going to Donner for a few days, and from there to Tahoe. They were having a splendid time, and enjoying the trip immensely. The party consisted of W. H. Gould and family, Prof. Ring, W. Lewis, Miss Wagner, Mrs. Raymond, Misses Lena and Lillian Sweetman, Mrs. Simpson and daughter. They carry a full complement of camp equipage, and propose to stay in camp two or three weeks more.

A Veteran Greenback.

(S. F. Bulletin.)

The first $1 Greenback printed by the Government bears date of August 1, 1862, and now is the property of Edward Slocum, of New Richmond, Allegan county, Michigan. So reads a floating paragraph on the sea of American journalism. The history of the Greenback is an important part of the history of the country during the civil war. It was a most powerful ally in conquering the rebellion. It did quite as much in its way as the best generalship, the largest army, the most approved munitions of war. It was emphatically war money. It paid the salary of officers and soldiers and furnished them with all their supplies. For all these and other purposes it ever circulated—nominally at least—for one hundred cents to the dollar. It was only when brought in contact with foreign goods or a specific contract law, that it had to cede from its par value. It will be in order for some one at some time to write up the history of the Greenback. Though it is now twenty-three years old and has survived thousands who handled it with one hand while they held the weapons of war with the other, it bids fair to outlive thousands of others who first saw it on the battle-fields of the country.

The law authorizing the issue of United States notes was passed February 25, 1862. These notes were called Legal Tender notes from the fact that Congress declared them a legal tender for all obligations of a public or private nature within the country, except duties on foreign imports. Despite this declaration merchants all over the country made their value on foreign goods in gold coin or its equivalents. The notes were called Greenbacks from the fact that the backs were printed in green. For sixteen years they formed the dominant currency of the country, except in the Pacific States. The first issue authorized only $150,000,000, the lowest denomination being $5. Of the above named amount $50,000,000 was to be applied to the redemption of the same amount of Demand Treasury notes, issued under the law of July 17, 1861. The same law made the limit of both issues at $150,000,000. It was evidently thought that this sum would be sufficient to put down the rebellion. Soldiers and others receiving these notes, and wishing to invest them in sums of $50 and multiples thereof, were authorized to deposit them with any Assistant Treasurer and get a certificate, which the Treasurer would honor by issuing to the holders its value in bonds bearing 6 per cent interest, payable semi-annually, the bonds taken up in five or twenty years, at the pleasure of the Government.

The second chapter opens with the issue of another $150,000,000 under a law adopted by Congress on July 11, 1862. A provision stipulated that no note should be printed under $1 and the amount under $5 should not exceed $35,000,000. This issue was also convertible into 6 per cent. bonds, the interest of which, as in the first case, was to be paid in coin. A second proviso stipulated that the notes might be paid in coin rather than bonds. There was some men of faith in those days who thought the $300,000,000 authorized up to that time might be more than would be needed, and so made early provision for taking up the notes for coin. The third chapter provides for the issuance of $150,000,000. This law was passed March 3, 1863. The Secretary was to be governed in the amount issued under this Act by the exigencies of the public service. No provisions were made for converting this issue into bonds, but there was a stipulation that the notes issued under the previous Acts could not be converted into 6 per cent. bonds after July 1, 1863. The three Acts provided for an issue of $450,000,000. The largest amount in actual circulation, including demand notes, was $433,160,569 on the 31st of August, 1865. At the time President declared the rebellion ended in certain States April 2, 1866, the amount outstanding was $422,749,252. Soon after the President's proclamation of August 20, 1866, declaring the insurrection at an end throughout the whole of the United States the amount was reduced to $399,603,592, and has never been as high since. After some notes had been cancelled under the law of April, 1866, the reduction was stopped and the amount in circulation was limited to $346,681,016. This has been the amount since May 31, 1878.

Memorial Programme.

The Committee of Arrangements announce the following as the programme for the Grant memorial exercises at the theater on Saturday, August 8th:
Funeral March by Band.
Music by Choir.
Prayer.
Remarks by Chairman.
Music by Choir.
Eulogy.
Music by Choir.
Benediction.
Dead March by Band.

Judge B. C. Whitman died suddenly of apoplexy in San Francisco Wednesday night. His demise will cause deep sorrow to all who knew him. He was one of the noblest men on the Coast.

The President and the Cattle Men.

President Cleveland Tuesday informed the delegation representing the cattle men that he would not modify his recent order for the removal of cattle from leased lands in the Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservation within forty days from his proclamation. A stockman says: Cattle cannot be driven in herds exceeding 3,000, and it requires twelve men and sixty horses to handle such a herd. It will, therefore, be seen that to move the entire number of cattle effected by the execution of the order, an aggregate force of 1,000 men and 5,000 horses must be at once collected. This is utterly impossible, at this season of the year, when range work is at its greatest activity and experienced herdsmen are fully employed. We have but few men at the present time, having our ranges enclosed by fences and not requiring herders. A drive from the ranges now occupied to new ones in northern territories cannot be made in less than from three to four months. In moving cattle from their present locations subsistence must be found along the whole line they traverse.

The resignation of Joseph Stanley Brown, one of the geologists of the Geological Survey, has been accepted by Secretary Lamar. Mr. Brown was Private Secretary to President Garfield, and became widely known to the public, and especially to members of the press during the long illness of the President by the skillful manner in which he discharged the delicate and trying duties suddenly thrust upon him. His resignation is entirely voluntary. He goes out for the purpose of pursuing a special course of scientific studies for a year or two at New Haven. His resignation took effect on the 1st instant.

The tomb of ex-President Harrison is in a sadly-neglected condition, and is rapidly crumbling to pieces. An appeal has been issued for subscriptions to a fund for the erection of a proper monument over the grave.

Requested to Close.

The Grant Memorial Committee request the closing of all business houses of Reno, including saloons, to-morrow, from 11 o'clock A. M. till 3 P. M. during the obsequies of General Grant.

BREVITIES.

The Bank has quit taking the stock report.

R. L. Fulton's little Chester continues to be a very sick boy.

Hale & Norcross have levied an assessment of 50 cents per share, and Holmes one of $1.

Many persons are coming in from the country to-morrow to attend the memorial exercises.

Jas. J. Gilmore was tried in the Justice Court yesterday on a charge of disturbing the peace. The jury found him guilty, and Justice Young sentenced him to pay a fine of $50.

There is to be a total eclipse of the sun on September 9th of the present year. The only land from which the phase of totality will be visible is on the shore of Cook's Strait in New Zealand.

The Cherry Creek News says: Surveyor General Powning's annual report to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, published in the News today, is a very interesting document, and treats on the varied industries of our State in an able and intelligent manner.

Low Tide.

The Enterprise says: "The rivers in this State are all running lower than usual at this season of the year. Notably is this the case with the Walker, Carson and Truckee. This is the result of the delightful weather and immunity from heavy snow storms we enjoyed during the latter portion of the Winter, after the first part of January. The snowfall in the Sierra Nevada was light as compared with previous Winters, therefore the Summer sun made short work of it, and as soon as the supply failed at the source the volume of water in the mountain streams and rivers failed as a natural consequence, and no increase need be looked for before next Fall or cooler weather gives less evaporation, and the mountain springs begin to rise and give a better flow. Just now all the water in the Carson river is taken up by the farming and mill ditches, and the salivated frogs in the canyon between Empire and Dayton have to hunt the dams to keep the skin from drying up on their poor backs."

Late Land News for Settlers.

The following are instructions relative to proof in support of pre-emption claims and commuted homestead entries:

"The claimant must show at least six month residence next preceding date of final proof, which must be made on the day and at the day advertised. Residence must be actual habitation of, and not occasional visits to the land. The party must actually reside upon, cultivate and improve the land for at least the period above mentioned. Persons doing business in town and residing there or elsewhere than on the land entered or filed for, or otherwise not actually living on the land, must not be allowed to acquire title thereto by pretext or assumption of "constructive residence." The character of the improvements and amount of cultivation must be such as evidence entire good faith on the part of the claimant.

Persons applying to give notice of their intention to give proof, should be advised that it will be a useless expenditure of time and money if they will not be able on the day fixed, to show full and actual compliance with the law.

General Suspension.

According to the present understanding and expression on the part of the various superintendents, all the mines and mining works all along the Comstock will be closed down Saturday, on the occasion of the Grant obsequies.

State Prison Expenses.

Warden Bell reports the July expenses of the State Prison at $2,840 73, which includes $185 paid on account of discharged convicts. The average number of prisoners for July was 110.

THE TRUSTEE QUESTION.

An Expression From Attorney General Davenport Upon It.

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL,
CARSON CITY, NEVADA.

July 30, 1885.

Hon. C. S. Young, Supt. of Public Instruction.

DEAR SIR:—Numerous inquiries having been made as to the status of the School Trustees elected in May last, and you being anxious to have my official opinion upon the constitutionality of the statutory provision under which the election took place, I have the honor to say that in my judgment the provision is unconstitutional and void.

Section 2 of the Act in question provides that where the number of census children in a district exceeds four hundred, the Board of Trustees shall consist of five members, of whom one shall be elected annually for a term of five years. This is in direct violation of the constitution, which prohibits the Legislature from creating any office the tenure of which shall be longer than four years. The portion of the section which provides for the election of Trustees for three years is open to no such objection; but these different provisions are so intimately connected that they cannot be separated, and one part hold good while the other is rejected. They must stand or fall together.

If we strike out the unconstitutional portion, it virtually destroys the whole section by leaving those districts in which there are more than four hundred school children without any mode of electing Trustees. It would not do to elect Boards of three members in each district regardless of the number of school children, for obviously the Legislature never intended such an apportionment. Under the law districts having more than four hundred children are just as much entitled to five Trustees as the smaller ones are to three, and there is no more authority to change the number from five to one, or to any other number that might be suggested. In any such case it would be in effect creating a law different from the one enacted by the Legislative powers and cannot be sustained either by reason or authority.

Hence the part which is bad, the five-year provision—as of the very fibre and the substance of the act, and vitiates the whole so far as it deals with the same subject matter. Section 2, which provides for and election and apportionment of Trustees being unconstitutional, it follows that the succeeding section down to and including Section 11 all being in pari materia are equally so. Sections 1, 12 and 13 relate to matters entirely different, namely, the apportionment of school money.

To these provisions no constitutional objections have been offered, and none at present suggest themselves to my mind.

If the foregoing views are correct, it necessarily follows that the elections held last May were nullities, and that the previously elected Trustees are still legally in office. I have the honor to be yours respectfully,

W. H. DAVENPORT,
Attorney General.

Reduction of Tuscarora Mail Service.

The Tuscarora Times-Review says:

An order has been issued from the Postal Department at Washington reducing the mail service between Elko and Tuscarora to six mails a week, and between Tuscarora and White Rock to twice a week. Daily service is now being had on both routes. The order is to take effect on the 16th inst. It is probable that after that date no stages will run between this place and Elko on Sundays. The reduction is probably made on the score of economy. Since the reduction of postal rates there has been a heavy falling off in the receipts, and the Department appears resolved to lessen proportionately the expenses of the service. We believe that a large majority of the people of the Nation would prefer higher rates and increased service.

Superfluous Windmill.

Dahl's big windmill, on the shore of Washoe Lake, is being taken down and removed. It was built, says the Carson Appeal, under the brow of a hill where the wind never hit it. This is said to be the only place on the shore of the lake where the wind never blows. As a picturesque addition to the landscape, however, its claims were never disputed.

Our Distinguished Medical Visitor.

Our readers are all familiar with the firm of Medical Specialists, Dr. Liebig & Co., of 400 Geary street, San Francisco. The doctor is coming here on a professional visit, making a business tour through the State. The remarkable cures of chronic, delicate, special, and complicated diseases of both sexes, made by Dr. Liebig & Co., of San Francisco, are everywhere to be found west of the Rocky Mountains. The doctor is one of the greatest diagnosticians of the age. He has examined and prescribed for over 39,000 men in the past ten years in San Francisco, and to show what practice will do in perfecting science, the doctor can explain all the symptoms and diseases of men when they appear before him for consultation and examination, without the patient answering questions. His powers as a mind reader and physiognomist, is something marvelous, and the cures being made are simply miraculous.

The doctor will be at the Depot Hotel on Friday, August 7th, and remain one day in order to examine and consult with all who may desire his advice or treatment.

This is a rare opportunity to all suffering from complicated diseases, deformities, broken bones, or badly treated cases of a delicate nature by which so many men are ruined for life. All sufferers should avail themselves of this chance to consult the leading expert specialists, Dr. Liebig & Co.

The doctor was educated as a specialist in Europe nearly 25 years ago, and is known all over this country and Europe as a thoroughly educated medical specialist and surgeon. This will be a rare opportunity to consult the greatest specialist of the age, right here in our midst.

Pacific Brewery Beer.

Ed. Pagenstecher, late of Denver, Colorado, is now in charge of the Pacific Brewery and, if possible, making better beer than was ever before manufactured at the brewery. It is strong, and will keep longer than many of the brews made on this Coast. The long experience of the gentleman now in charge insures a first-class article, and as home manufacture should be given the preference there is every reason why the Pacific Brewery should soon be enlarged. Give the beer manufactured there a trial and become convinced that it is as good as that imported.
